OPEN SESSION

Call for Public Comment

Chair Cao called for public comment, inquiring as to whether there were person(s) who wished to comment on any agenda item. The following comments were provided to the Committee:

1. Todd Hill
Todd Hill addressed the committee, sharing experiences at the People's College of Law (PCL), where they were denied a Juris Doctor degree. They called for an investigation into PCL's practices and urged accountability from the State Bar to prevent future injustices, emphasizing the need for justice for all affected students.
2. Benjamin Kohn
Benjamin Kohn criticized delays in the rules revision process and noted that proposed rules have been applied in two exam cycles without formal adoption by the California Supreme Court. Kohn urged the committee to move forward with timeline reforms, address omissions in the existing proposal, and respond to issues of disparate treatment in the February 2024 bar exam report. They advocated for initiating notice and comment based on data from the two exam cycles, regardless of the court's decision.

3. Kristen Merriman

Kristen Merriman spoke about Lincoln Law School's application for inspection, sharing a journey from working as a respiratory therapist to pursuing law school. They praised Lincoln Law for its strong reputation in San Jose and highlighted positive experiences with its dedicated faculty. Merriman urged the committee to support the school's reaccreditation inspection, emphasizing its commitment to student success.

4. Gil Rivas

Gil Rivas commented on Lincoln Law School's accreditation application, sharing their background as a public school graduate and U.S. Navy veteran. They praised the faculty for their strong support and highlighted the school's commitment to helping individuals earn a law degree while contributing to the community. Rivas urged the committee to consider Lincoln Law's achievements and alumni in their accreditation decision.

5. George Leal

George Leal, a former Dean of Irvine College of Law, urged the committee to set the First-Year Law Students' Examination passing score at 69 instead of 70. They emphasized that this change is vital for promoting diversity in the legal profession, as many marginalized students have been unfairly dismissed due to high standards.
